

Today's Scripture:

Philippians 1:12–21 (NIV)

Insight

Paul's letter to the church at Philippi is much loved because of its emphasis on joy. Considered by many to be the apostle's most practical letter, it nevertheless contains one of the most theological segments in the New Testament. The declaration in Philippians 2:5–11, believed by some to have been a part of an ancient hymn, explores what Christ left behind to come to earth as a human being. It also explores His ultimate mission—the cross—and the glory that will be His one day, when “every knee [will] bow” and “every tongue acknowledge that Jesus Christ is Lord” (vv. 10–11).

By: Bill Crowder

---

Today's Scripture:

Philippians 1:12–21 (NIV)

Insight

Paul's letter to the church at Philippi is much loved because of its emphasis on joy. Considered by many to be the apostle's most practical letter, it nevertheless contains one of the most theological segments in the New Testament. The declaration in Philippians 2:5–11, believed by some to have been a part of an ancient hymn, explores what Christ left behind to come to earth as a human being. It also explores His ultimate mission—the cross—and the glory that will be His one day, when “every knee [will] bow” and “every tongue acknowledge that Jesus Christ is Lord” (vv. 10–11).

By: Bill Crowder

---